

HIGH BEECHES GARDENS

Late morning we travel to Haywards Heath to visit High Beeches Gardens, Autumn is a time of breath-taking displays of colour, amongst the best in the country, provided by the many spectacular Nyssas, Maples and Liquidambers growing throughout the garden and contrasting with the conifers. The beds of cyclamen glow in the Autumn light. In autumn the garden is ablaze with colour. The many Acers, Liquidambers, Nyssas, Fothergillas and Disanthus put on a dazzling display. Nyssa Sylvatica 'High Beeches' was awarded a First-Class Certificate by the RHS in 1968. A native of North America it is one of the finest of the autumn colour trees.
