

ORCHIDS AT KEW GARDENS

We start our journey to The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew which is a world-famous scientific and horticultural institution, comprising 132 hectares of historic, landscaped gardens dating back to 1759. We are going to visit at an allocated time slot, the iconic orchid festival with the unique flora and fauna of Peru. Peru offers a varied landscape from beaches and rainforests to deserts and mountains and is home to over 3000 species of orchid, and a spectacular array of wildlife. The horticultural displays and living sculptures will be exhibited in the Princess of Wales Conservatory and the beauty and biodiversity will be stunning. The colours and varieties are something that are well worth seeing and should not be missed.
