

SNOWDROPS AT WELFORD PARK, NEWBURY

We will start our journey travelling South West to Newbury on the M25. Halfway through our trip we will stop for a comfort break at Reading Services, and we will stop again on our return. We will have tea/coffee on arrival at Welford Park, which is probably better known to you as the home of the Great British Bake Off, but at the end of winter it has one of the best snowdrop collections in the UK. There is approximately 5 acres of beech woods carpeted with snowdrops which thrive and enhance the pretty riverbanks of the River Lambourn. Wrap up warm as you walk around and enjoy the swathes of snowdrops, hellebores, aconites and winter flowering shrubs. When you have finished your walk, you can head to the tea tent for a warming drink and bite to eat or visit the gift shop, to finish off your lovely day before leaving for home.
