BLETCHLEY PARK, MILTON KEYNES

Itinerary

Bletchley Park was an English country house built in 1883 for Sir Herbert Leon, and during the second world war it became the home of the top-secret code breakers. There are many interactive displays and recreated rooms of WW2 to visit which will take you back to times gone by. The people who worked at Bletchley Park created the automatic machinery to help with decryption and breaking the many codes used during wartime and also started the development of Colossuses, the world's first programmable digital electronic computer. The house is set in lovely grounds and refreshments are on offer in the on-site cafes. Comfort stop enroute
