

GREENWICH & QUEEN'S HOUSE

Itinerary

You can start your day visiting the busy bustling Greenwich market where many bargains are waiting to be bought. You can then wander through the winding streets down to the historic Cutty Sark. The Queens House which was a royal residence and was built in 1616 being designed by Indigo Jones can be visited for free entry. This beautiful building has wonderful architecture and holds many interesting treasures and paintings. If you prefer you can wander through the lovely Greenwich Park and take in the views of London or you can just sit and enjoy a nice cup of tea in one of the many cafes.
